BABY'S SCALP,

Milk Crust, Dandruff, Eczema and all Scalp Humors Cured by Cuticura.

LAST NOVEMBER my little boy aged three years fell against the stove while he was running, and cut his head, and right after that, he broke [illegible] all over his head [illegible] left ear. I had a good doctor, Dr. —— to attend him, but he got worse, and the doctor could not cure him. His whole head, face and left ear were in a fearful state, and he suffered terribly. I caught the disease from him and it spread all over my face and neck and even got into my eyes. Nobody thought we would ever get better. I felt sure we were disfigured for life. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES and procured a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a box of CUTICURA and a cake of CUTICURA SOAP and used them constantly day and night. After using two bottles of RESOLVENT, four boxes of CUTICURA and four cakes of SOAP we are perfectly cured without a scar. My boy's skin is now like satin.

Have been in the drug and medicine business twenty five years. Have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES since they came West. They lead all others in their line. We could not write nor could you print all we have heard said in favor of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. One year ago the CUTICURA and SOAP cured a little girl in our house of the worst sore head we ever saw, and the RESOLVENT and CUTICURA are now curing a young gentleman of a sore leg, while the physicians [illegible] amputated. It will save his leg and perhaps his life. Too much cannot be said in favor of CUTICURA REMEDIES.

An Effort to Save the Chicago Anarchists.

A CUBAN SWINDLE EXPOSED.

Ex-Vice-President Wheeler in a Lamentable Condition—Death of Hoxie—The Jury in the Boodle Case Still Out.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 23.—This afternoon Capt. Black, who conducted the defense of the Chicago anarchists, Leonard Swett, associate counsel for defense, and his partner, Mr. Bates, arrived from Chicago with a trunk full of testimony for the purpose of asking Justice John M. Scott of Bloomington for a supersedeas in the case of their clients who are sentenced to hang December 3d. They called upon Judge Scott and spent a few moments with him. The judge will begin work to-morrow upon the consideration of testimony and will work upon it steadily and as rapidly as possible until the end. It is understood there will be oral argument. It seems apparent that no conclusion will be reached for a number of days.

WILL ASK FOR EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

CHICAGO, Nov. [illegible]—The amnesty association recently formed to assist the movement in favor of the condemned anarchists held a meeting to-night at which the principal speakers were State Representatives elect Charles G. Dixon, M. J. Dwyer, George Ferbeck and Senator-elect M. Barke, each of whom was a successful candidate on the united labor ticket in the recent election. While disclaiming anarchists or communists as they understood the terms, the speakers vehemently denounced the verdict in the anarchist trial and demanded commutation of the sentence. The belief was asserted that if the condemned men were sent to the penitentiary now they would be in the near future pardoned. All the speakers declared the 25,000 votes for the united labor ticket were cast as a protest against the verdict. It was decided by the meeting that the delegation elected by the united labor party would present a petition to Gov. Oglesby asking executive clemency. A committee was appointed to arrange a mass meeting to protest against the verdict in case a supersedeas is not granted by some one of the supreme court judges. About 100 persons were present at to-night's meeting.

A SWINDLE EXPOSED.

Cuban Sharpers Fleece Gullible Philadelphians Out of Large Sums.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—The Record will to-morrow publish an article exposing a well-laid plan of Cuban sharpers to swindle gullible Philadelphians. It is supposed that they have reaped a rich harvest. The plan of procedure adopted by the swindler was to write to his intended victim, representing himself as a prisoner in a royal prison in Havana, and offering to reveal to him a spot where $115,000 was buried in a glass jar in the outskirts of New Orleans. He obtained this money, he said, on drafts on a New Orleans bank, and finding he would be arrested, buried it. He offered to disclose the place of burial, and allow the person addressed one quarter of the amount—$[illegible]—if he would endeavor to obtain the writer's liberty. After receiving a reply from his victim he would again write, enclosing what purported to be an official copy of an order of the court refusing permission to have his baggage unless he deposited with the court $1500 as security for the safe return of the same. As his baggage contained the plan of the location of the hidden money, and as he had not $1500 to deposit as security, he thus gave an opportunity for his victim to volunteer to send that amount to Havana.

The Record asserts that a number of persons have been victimized. It is uncertain whether or not anything can be done towards the arrest of the swindlers. The Spanish authorities have been notified and an investigation into the management of the royal prison at Havana will be made.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Many of its Leaders and Counsellors in Attendance at Arthur's Funeral.

NEW YORK, Nov. [illegible]—The Mail and Express says editorially: The remarkable gathering of republican leaders in this city occasioned by the death and funeral of ex-President Arthur was provocative of a great deal of talk. [illegible] [illegible] statesmen who [illegible] would be on the [illegible] for presidential [illegible] here held to-day. Such names as Blaine, [illegible] Sherman, Edmunds and Gresham, Allison, Logan, Depew and [illegible] Hawley are others. [illegible] any one who reads the reports of yesterday's funeral. [illegible]

If the regular nominating convention were to be held to-morrow, Blaine would be nominated by acclamation. The friends of Blaine are not pressing his candidacy or antagonizing the friends of other possible candidates. There is a degree of republican harmony and of supreme regard for the party above all leaders that has never before existed. If Blaine's figure is so mighty in republican politics, it is largely because of the magnificent service he has been rendering as a private citizen leading the great campaigns in Maine and Pennsylvania with success, because of his qualifications for leadership, and not because he had been a candidate for the presidency. The republican party contains intelligence and has the fairness to judge all the efforts of its leaders to strengthen and inspire the only party which has a definite, common, clearly understood form of principles that are supported in the same manner and by the same arguments all over the country."

EX-VICE-PRESIDENT WHEELER.

His Physical Condition Pitiable and his Early Death Probable.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A correspondent at Malone, N. Y., telegraphs that ex-Vice-President Wheeler is approaching a state of physical collapse, his condition being regarded as serious. For years Mr. Wheeler has been a victim of insomnia, and it is now on the lips of gossip that his decline has been hastened by the use of opiates taken to induce sleep. The correspondent says details of the total collapse of Wheeler are sad and painful to narrate. His physician is reticent, but be the cause what it may, the fact remains that the once strong and aggressive political leader is now a wreck of humanity. Not a night passes that his physician does not attend and assist the sufferer to procure a semblance of sleep.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

THE GRANT-DANA CONTROVERSY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Times to-day devotes two of its news columns to exposure of the Sun's malignant attack on the late Gen. Grant's family in the matter of the Holmes undertaking bill. Some of the details have not hitherto been published. It says: "and they aid in more fully showing the motive and purpose of those who vindictively pursued Grant while he was alive and who since his death seem to have devoted themselves to the task of annoying the dead hero's family as much as the law will permit them to do."

The Commercial says editorially to-night: The senior editor of the Sun, who was absent from the country at the time of the controversy, might not suffer so much in the estimation of the people if he had the courage to apologize for his son's ill-advised action in the matter, but as he has chosen to ratify that action he will be obliged to take the consequences. The assertion of the junior Dana that he paid the bill in order that a controversy over it might be averted would have a trifle more weight if he had not taken pains to start the controversy himself, and continue it to as great length as possible. Although it is a wretched affair, justice to the dead general's family demands that the blame should be put where it belongs and that is upon the shoulders of Messrs. Dana.

REFUSES TO PAY HER LAWYERS.

DETROIT, Nov. 23.—Charles Richardson, of Alpena, died about a year ago leaving a will bequeathing to his widow property valued at $800,000. The will was contested by his brothers and sisters. The wife employed R. J. Kelly, J. D. Trumbull and Cooper, [illegible] Bleator as attorneys. [illegible] [illegible] the suit by paying the relatives $150,000. When the attorneys brought in their bills for services [illegible] to their own statement Kelly demanded $[illegible], Trumbull $10,000 and Bleator $5,000 [illegible] Mrs. Richardson [illegible] charges criminal and refused to pay. [illegible] she drew $[illegible] from the [illegible] bank [illegible] to Detroit to keep it away from the lawyers [illegible] this city. However, the lawyers [illegible] learning that they had taken out a garnishee [illegible] for the bank to draw the money [illegible] she kept it [illegible] to the outcome. Lawyers say she [illegible] crazy.

A WEALTHY LACE SMUGGLER.

NEW YORK, Nov. [illegible]—Lace goods of [illegible] have been smuggled into New York through various channels for some time. Miss Josephine Schoenbach [illegible] and lively [illegible] was arrested to-day. The young lady says she is a relative of [illegible] in Belgium [illegible] the country. PACIFIC COAST.

The Murderer of Grant Killed while Resisting Arrest.

FOURTEEN BALLS PIERCE HIS BODY

A Rumor that the Canadian Pacific is Surveying a Line into Portland—The Official Vote of California—Coast Notes.

THE DALLES, Nov. 23.—Henry Harvey, murderer of Roderick Grant, was killed about five miles this side of Antelope, at the head of Pine hollow, early Sunday morning by a posse of six citizens of Antelope. He was first discovered Saturday evening at Duffy's sheep cabin, five miles south of Antelope, by a man named Griffith, who had stopped at the cabin to get supper. Griffith told Harvey to tie his horse and come in and get supper. He said, "All right, Mr. Griffith, you walk ahead of me."

This aroused suspicion, and after supper Griffith said he would go and get water to wash the dishes. He left the cabin, bucket in hand, and made his way as fast as possible to the nearest neighbor—Wiley's horse ranch—two miles distant. Wiley and Griffith went immediately to Antelope and gave the alarm, arriving there at 10 o'clock. Harvey passed through Antelope at half past 11.

A party started from Antelope at early light Sunday morning. They tracked him on the newly fallen snow. At Rooper's camp they found that Harvey had called there wanting to stop over night, which was refused. He went down to Pine hollow, built a fire and was there when the Antelope party arrived. They asked him if he was traveling. He said he was, and they asked him where he was going. He said to Antelope. He was told to throw up his hands. His answer was, "Yes, you s— of b— I will," and he commenced to shoot.

He never gave up until shot through the head. He was armed with a Winchester and two revolvers, one of which was Allen Grant's. Fourteen bullet holes were found on his body. None of the party were hit.

Justice Kinsey, of Antelope, held an inquest next day and notified the dead man's parents of his death. Harvey was a young man aged [illegible] years and a desperate character.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

A REPUBLICAN ASKS REINSTATEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The appeal for the reinstatement of Wm. A. Stone, who was suspended from the office of United States attorney for the Western district of Pennsylvania on account of "pernicious activity" in the recent elections, is modeled upon the published explanation of Mr. Benton, who was suspended in Missouri and afterward reinstated. Mr. Stone's letter was received by the attorney general on Friday and he immediately transmitted it to the president, who has not yet acted upon it. Stone's friends say that the president to be consistent must reinstate him as he did Benton, the democratic district attorney from Missouri. Democrats say the essential difference in Benton's error and Stone's offense is that the latter made a point of discrediting and abusing the administration whose officer he was. For this reason it is thought that Stone will not be reinstated.

THE NATIONAL BANK QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Inquiry at the treasury department shows that as the time for the assembling of congress approaches public interest in the national bank question is visibly increasing. The comptroller of the currency is now receiving letters from all parts of the country making suggestions as to a permanent basis for national banks. These letters come not only from persons interested in national banks, but from officers of state banks, private bankers and from prominent manufacturers and many merchants seem also to have directed their attention to the maintenance of the existing system. The comptroller said to-day that he was very much pleased to receive suggestions and hoped everybody having any ideas on the subject would communicate them, so that he would be prepared to lay them before the proper committees in case congress should take up consideration of the subject.

TRAINING SHIPS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Commodore Schley, chief of the bureau of equipment and recruiting, in his annual report urges the necessity for two or more modern steam cruisers for training ships on the ground that it is only on such vessels that the sailing necessary for modern warfare can be given, and because these improvements in naval warfare have made it impossible to recruit our navy in case of war from merchant seamen or other men of seaports.

THE NAVAL ACADEMY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Nearly all of the annual report of W. T. Thompson, superintendent of the United States naval academy, is devoted to an argument in support of the proposed change in the academic course. REBELLION IN SOUTH AFRICA.

A Great Battle Fought, in which the Portuguese are Defeated and 7000 Men Killed.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Advices from Dunbar of November 3 state that a general and apparently successful revolt is in progress among the natives against the Portuguese authorities in Southeast Africa. An American missionary, Rev. Mr. Wilcox, has arrived in Dunbar from the Portugal settlement on the east coast above the Transvaal. He reports as follows: The natives at Inhambane, Portuguese port town 200 miles above Delagoa bay, rose up against Portuguese taxation and murdered the collector. On October 23 a battle was fought between 8000 Portuguese and friendly natives on one side and 30,000 hostile natives on the other. The Portuguese were defeated and routed, and the loss in killed on both sides is estimated at 7000 men. Mr. Wilcox says the governor of Mozambique has gone into the country to endeavor to suppress the revolt and save part of Inhambane from falling into the hands of the insurgents. The town was barricaded when the missionary last heard from it and women and children had been removed to ships lying in the roadstead. The entire country round about the town had already been abandoned by Portuguese and arrangements been made to remove the population of Inhambane out to sea if hostile natives attacked the town in force.

BACK FROM GREENLAND.

Lieut. Pearcy Penetrates to the Interior, over Unbroken Fields of Snow.

HALIFAX, Nov. 23.—Lieut. Pearcy, who has been on an expedition to Greenland for the purpose of satisfying himself as to the feasibility of traveling across that country and thus opening a new route for Arctic explorers, arrived here yesterday on his way to his home in the United States. Landing at a Danish settlement on the west coast of Greenland he journeyed eastward for 100 miles over unbroken fields of snow, when he returned to the starting place. This was his principal journey and he was accompanied by Danish officials. He made several short journeys alone. His observation and experience satisfied him that Greenland could be crossed from west to east by future expeditions to the North pole. The 100 mile trip Pearcy and his companions had to travel on snow-shoes and haul the sleds containing their provisions themselves, the snow being too soft for dogs. They experienced no hardship and returned to the coast in good condition. Upon reaching the point 100 miles inland the elevation above the sea was found to be [illegible]500 feet.

THE EASTERN TROUBLE.

THE CZAR'S TERRIBLE TEMPER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A special dispatch from London states that one of the worst elements of the European situation is the terrible, uncertain temper of the czar, who in his present state of irritation and excitement is liable at any time to throw off all restraints of prudence and plunge the whole of Europe into war. There is a general impression that the supposed combination between England, Austria and Italy is an accomplished fact, with Germany in the background to divert the attention of France, and that this combination is resolved not to advance an inch, but to leave Russia to decide whether she proposes war or peace. It is thought that Bismarck is now ready and anxious to precipitate a crisis.

RUSSIA BELIEVED TO BE TEMPORIZING.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Thomas Power O'Connor cables from London to the Star: Nobody knows whether the European deadlock is to end in peace or war. The foreign office still holds fast to the belief that the czar will give way in time to avoid a winter campaign and useless waste of blood and treasure, but of this there is no visible sign. War is still on the cards. There is a growing suspicion that Russia is delaying active operations until winter sets in, when a large body of troops, suddenly set in motion, might seize and hold strategic points on the threatened frontiers before Austria and England could take the field, thus achieving, by a coup de main, all that could be accomplished by a campaign.

THE ATTITUDE OF ITALY.

ROME, Nov. 23.—In the green book just issued by the government it is shown that Count di Robilant, minister of foreign affairs, has sent a circular letter to each of the powers assuring them that all that Italy is desirous of is European concert to maintain peace on the basis of the Berlin treaty and independence of the Balkan states. The green book states that in a recent conversation with Sir J. Saville Lumley, British ambassador at Rome, Count di Robilant argued that it was immoral for a great power to morally support a small power unless prepared to furnish material support when the small power needed it.

A DIPLOMATIC DISPUTE.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Berlin to the Post says that Count Herbert Bismarck had a long interview to-day with Count Schouvaloff, Russian ambassador at Berlin, in the course of which the latter complained bitterly of the tone adopted by the official German press toward Gen. Kaulbars. It is reported that Count Herbert replied warmly to this charge, saying that Gen. Kaulbars's proceedings in Bulgaria were unworthy of the agent of a great power.

A WARLIKE EDITORIAL.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The Novoe Vremya, commenting upon the rumors that war between Germany and Russia is impending, says: "If there is one thing upon which Russia will rejoice to exhaust her last blood it is to uphold her independence against the Germans."

A CABINET CRISIS THREATENED.

PARIS, Dec. 23.—The chamber of deputies to-day voted in favor of a reduction of 635,000 francs in the expenditures of the central administration, and a reduction of [illegible]00,000 francs in the payment to the finance ministry. The chamber referred the question of other reductions to the consideration of the minister of finance. After several divisions it was decided to discuss amendments reducing other credits demanded by the government. The attitude of the chamber of deputies toward the government has created a sensation. Reports are current that several members of the cabinet are about to resign and that four under-secretaries have already tendered their resignations.

They also report that the rebellion is still rapidly spreading under the influence of religious fanatics who lead the insurgents. Many of the ameer's troops are also joining the rebels owing to the honorable reception given to members of the British Afghan boundary commission by the ameer, which gave rise to a suspicion that he intended to yield to British occupancy.

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—A special meeting of the cabinet was held this morning to reconsider the question of the dissolution of the Dominion parliament. It was decided to postpone an appeal to the country until the result of the Ontario election is known. McDonald denies that dissolution was discussed, but from reliable sources it is learned that the meeting was convened for that purpose. The fishery troubles with the United States were considered and representations will at once be made to the British government covering an outline of an agreement by which Canada's interest would be protected in the event of Canadian waters being thrown open to American fishermen. The governor general was present at the cabinet meeting.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 24, 1886

SUICIDE WITH THE PEN

Suicide with the pen is the fate of many public men. Henry Clay lost the presidency in 1844, in consequence of the publication of a letter he had written to an Alabama correspondent concerning the annexation of Texas, and Blaine was undoubtedly beaten by the "Mulligan letters" in 1884. Henry Ward Beecher's letters were fatal to his best fame in the Tilton trial. Tilton, the Moultons, Bowen, and the whole cloud of witnesses would have been utterly discredited by the public, had it not been for his terrible letters. These documents made the case, not that of Tilton vs. Beecher but of Beecher vs. his own letters. Admiral Porter wrote a letter once concerning Grant that disgraced him as a false friend, but Grant magnanimously forgave him for the sake of his great and loyal support at Vicksburg, yet Grant's magnanimity did not restore to Porter his lost reputation as a manly officer and gentleman. Gen. Sherman's letters have more than once covered him with confusion, and his explanations have not satisfied the people who regretted to find out that a great soldier was not always an ingenuous man. We do not refer to the Gen. Fry controversy, which can be creditably explained without serious discredit to Sherman, but to the letter found in the archives of the war department, and published by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which was written by Sherman to Halleck in June 1862, when Halleck after Corinth left the field to take a bomb proof place at Washington. In this letter Sherman compliments Halleck, and says in substance that he despairs of any future good luck for the army, since there is nobody left behind Halleck fit to fill his shoes, and that an eastern officer could not command the cordial confidence of the army. This letter does not read well along side of Sherman's address on Grant before the army of the Tennessee, when Sherman denounced Halleck as an incompetent, who shelved Grant, scattered a splendid army and lost the legitimate fruits of the victories Buell and Grant had won. In the same address Sherman dates his confidence in and admiration for Grant from Fort Donelson. And yet three months after Donelson he writes a complimentary letter to Halleck saying that he left nobody worthy of confidence behind him. This was an unfortunate letter for Sherman to explain and he never has tried to explain it. Then there was Murat Halstead who was covered with confusion about a year ago by the publication of a private letter written by him to Secretary Chase in February 1863, denouncing Gen. Grant as "a drunkard" and "an ass," who was "drunk at Shiloh," urging Chase "to take Lincoln by the throat and knock his head against the wall until he is brought to his senses," and intimating that "there are persons who feel it would be doing God's service to the Union to kill Lincoln." The same letter described the medical staff of Grant's army as "composed of drunkards," and speaks with bitter contempt of Sherman as a soldier. These statements were not given as rumor, but their positive truth was asseverated in every form possible, such as "I know he is an ass," "Gov. Chase, these things are true," "I know what I am talking about." This letter's contents was a very awkward dose for Halstead to cough up, and his contortions were a source of great amusement to the country.

Then there was Garfield, who was embarrassed in his campaign of 1880 by the publication of a private letter written by him in the spring of 1863, when he was chief of staff to Rosecrans, denouncing Rosecrans as unfit by temper and intellect to command an army, and urging his removal. This was an awkward letter for Garfield to explain, as he stood to Rosecrans in the most delicate and confidential relation that a soldier could to his commander. He was of his military family, and as a loyal gentleman he had no business to hold his place and write a secret letter against his chief. He should have shown the letter to Rosecrans before he sent it, and tendered his resignation. The latest victim of suicide with the pen is Senator Edmunds, whose private letter to a friend, published in our issue of the 20th, confesses that he refused to speak for Blaine in 1884 for reasons that do not imply a complimentary opinion of the candidate. This letter is dated April 15, 1885, and would probably never have been written if Edmunds had not felt confident that, whether the republican party was scotched rather than slain, Brother Blaine was placed on the retired list. But Brother Blaine is so far from being a corpse that John Sherman confesses that if Blaine cares to be nominated in 1888 he is, humanly speaking, sure of success. In that event Brother Edmunds's mugwump admirers will give him no peace; they will use this letter to force him into the same injurious attitude of significant silence that he occupied in 1884. Furthermore the publication of this letter makes it totally impossible to reconcile Blaine's friends to supporting Edmunds for any political preferment should the next administration be republican. Mr. Edmunds is never likely again to appear as a candidate in a national convention, and though in this respect the publication of his letter does not change his presidential prospects, it certainly seriously complicates the political situation for 1888, because it places Edmunds in a position toward Blaine from which he cannot recede if he would. The national convention might well hesitate to place the party in the same situation as in 1884, so far as the doubtful states of the East, where mugwumps most do congregate, are concerned. Edmunds, stiffly standing in his old attitude, would be a thorn in the flesh of Blaine, and this letter makes it certain that he will be found in 1888 where he was in 1884. If this fact should persuade the party to select another leader than Blaine, and he should be elected, this letter would be used with great effect by Blaine's friends to prevent any complimentary recognition of Edmunds by the administration. In any way you look at it the publication of this private letter is unfortunate. It is bad for Blaine, bad for the party, and, most of all, bad for the future of Edmunds and his leadership in the party. It looks as if his was a case of political suicide with the pen.

Caleb Cushing once wrote a private letter to Jeff Davis during the war commending somebody to his favor. This letter was found among the "Confederate" archives of the war department, and its publication compelled President Grant to withdraw Cushing's nomination as chief justice of the United States supreme court.

THE CRIPPLED CONFEDERATES

The liberality of our government to its crippled veterans surpasses that of any government on earth, and yet every session of congress is signalized by a fresh effort to pass a general pension bill giving all men without discrimination a pension, who can produce an honorable discharge from the service. Whether the soldier served ten days or four years, whether he was a volunteer or a hired substitute, or was purchased with an enormous bounty to fill a town quota, the universal pension bill makes no distinction, and some of the G. A. R. posts at the East are mean enough to favor its passage. It ought to make the cheap, mercenary veteran of the Union army look ashamed to read the record of the manly patience with which the ex-Confederate soldier endures his wounds and poverty with but small assistance from his state, and yet manages to earn a decent living and keep out of the almshouse. The state of Georgia has been more constant and more liberal in her provision for maimed ex-Confederate soldiers than any other state, and yet a statement of what Georgia has done is the story of a mere pittance compared with what the Union soldier gets to-day under the law from the federal government. In 1877 the Georgia legislature passed an act providing that every five years specified sums shall be paid to all maimed ex-Confederate soldiers in Georgia "for the purchase of artificial limbs." For an arm lost above the elbow $60 was to be allowed, for an arm off below the elbow, $40, for a leg gone above the knee, $100, below the knee, $75. The first payment was made to several hundred beneficiaries under this act in 1880. Another payment would not have been due until 1885, but the law was changed so as to reduce the terms from five to three years, and in September, 1883, another payment was made to all applicants who could prove that they were entitled to it.

Eight hundred and seventy five armless and legless ex-Confederates received the benefits of this second distribution, and the total sum paid for artificial limb money in 1883 was $59,415 or an average of $68 apiece for three years, or about $23 a year. The last Georgia legislature passed an act to submit to the people a constitutional amendment extending the limits of this appropriation to all disabled ex-Confederate soldiers. At the recent election this proposed amendment was adopted by an overwhelming majority, less than 100 votes being cast against it in the entire state. The governor has proclaimed the adoption of the amendment, and it is now a part of the organic law. It will be necessary for the legislature to enact what amounts shall be paid to disabled soldiers who have not lost a limb and what shall constitute a technical disability. This will be done at the approaching session of the general assembly.

Under the existing law ex-Confederates who are totally blind or are utterly helpless through wounds received during the war, though none of their limbs are lost, can get no relief, but the amended constitution will allow provision for all such. Under the federal law any Union veteran who is blind, or totally helpless through wounds gets a pension of $72 a month, and in case he is an officer and a "general wreck," like Gen. Black, the head of the pension bureau, his pension makes a very pretty penny, ample for comfortable support. And yet all that Georgia, the richest and most generous state of the South, does for her maimed and disabled soldiers is to give them about $23 a year, and she did not give them a cent until 1880, fifteen years after the war. These maimed ex-Confederate soldiers have therefore for more than twenty years hoed their own row without assistance beyond this poor pittance, have kept, as a rule, out of the almshouses, and have made no unmanly complaint. In bright contrast with the annual yell for a general pension act that salutes the ears of congress, voiced by the G. A. R. of Massachusetts, is this manly submission of the maimed Confederate to wounds and poverty without complaint to his state. It ought to make those Union veterans, who are disposed to reduce the value of the patriotic service, that the nation has the right and the power to exact of every able-bodied citizen, down to dollars and cents, blush for their own manhood when they read that not a single Southern state paid her crippled veterans a dollar for fifteen years following the war, and to-day, Georgia, who pays the most, gives only $23 a year in shape of limb money to her legless or armless soldiers. The North is full of men who, despite the fact that they are absolutely secure of self-support, have pressed a claim for a pension upon the government and secured it upon some pretext that was a disgrace to the claimant. Men, independently rich, who returned from the war in better health than they went to it, have made successful application under the "arrears of pension act," and have thus practically declared that patriotic service for the state was a commodity, that it had a market value outside of a soldier's pay, clothing and ration; that it was a sentiment that could be reduced down to dollars and cents; that it was not, like virtue, its own reward, but was capable of reduction to a market value. Of course if this view shall generally obtain among the veterans of the Union, Memorial Day would be a farce, army reunions and all their orations, etc., would be transparent acts of hypocrisy under the name and sign of patriotic memories. Fortunately for the state all our soldiers have not sunk yet so low as to deride and despise the memory of any decent deed for their day and generation that they cannot pocket in shape of cash.

LIVES SHORT AND LONG

Ex-President Arthur died of cerebral apoplexy, consequent upon heart disease; he adds one more name to the list of prominent Americans who have met death in this form. DeWitt Clinton, Silas Wright, Wm. L. Marcy, Chief Justice Sandford E. Church, ex-Senator Fenton, Gov. Andrew, Secretary Stanton, Gen. McClellan and Gen. Hancock all died of heart disease, complicated more or less with kidney disease. Men of full-blooded physique, hearty eaters, if not high livers, who take little exercise, are prone to break down and die as did Arthur. The English habit of outdoor exercise saves their public men from premature death. It must be the exercise, for high living is and always has been the rule among English public men. Pitt and Fox died in their prime, but Pitt was naturally of a frail physique, and he had for twenty years before his death carried an enormous load of labor, responsibility and anxiety, while Fox had led a most dissolute life in early youth, so that his constitution was broken down when he was scarcely 55. Sir Robert Peel was only about [illegible] when he died, but his death was the result of a fall from his horse which broke his ribs and forced them into his lungs. Dickens and Thackeray were not much over 50 when they died, but as a rule the English statesman or author is long lived compared with our Americans of intellectual eminence. Brougham, Lyndhurst, Carlyle, Grey, Russell, Palmerston, Wordsworth, Moore, Landor and De Quincey all lived to be over 80, some of them to be nearly 90. Beaconsfield lived to be [illegible], which is Gladstone's present age. Bright is about 75. Tennyson is about [illegible]. The English judges never resign and seldom die under 80, and the English military or naval hero that escapes death in battle seldom dies under 80. Browning is over 74 years of age. With the exception of Canning, Macaulay and Cobden, none of whom lived to be old men, the English statesmen and men of letters of the nineteenth century have seldom failed to reach at least three score and ten. Our Emerson lived to be 80. George Bancroft is about 88. Holmes and Whittier are about 80. Robert C. Winthrop is over 80 and Simon Cameron is 88. Our public men used to be as long lived as the average English statesman. Burr, Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Marshall, Tyler, Fillmore, Everett, Van Buren, Buchanan, Ewing, Corwin, Cass, Clay, Calhoun, Webster, Scott, present as good an average as that of the English men of the same time, but the generation that succeeded that of Webster does not make so good a showing, and the generation to which Arthur belongs is still worse. Perhaps the pace of American life, both in society, business and politics, is harder than it was fifty years or even thirty years ago.

OUR MINING REVIEW

To-morrow another chapter of THE OREGONIAN'S elaborate review of the gold and silver mines of the Northwest will be published. It will be devoted to the mines of Washington territory. Following is a summary:

Locality of mineral deposits—No important mines west of the Cascades—The Skagit placers—The Nooksack gold field—The Yakima mines—Swauk, Cle-el-um and Peshastin districts—Shafer mine—Great mineral region north of the Yakima—Moses's and Colville reservations—Colville mines—The Old Dominion mine—Other mines—Great lead-silver deposits—Ore reduction—The Pend d'Oreille claims—Galena lodes—Transportation—Caledonia and Metaline.

The New York Times (Mugwump), reports a notable increase at the various political centers throughout the Union of what are called "Cleveland men." That is, democrats who hitherto have not been friendly to the president's "policy," are rapidly becoming so. We shall ask the Oregon democrats about this. Perhaps Col. Dell will tell about it in the Evening Democrat.

It looks now very much as if the water committee were going to give us a further supply of Willamette water. Well, Willamette water has never been half as bad as some have represented it. But there will be disappointment among many if Bull Run is not to be brought in right soon.

The man who advised Mr. Kelly to write that card repudiating the democratic nomination, was a bad friend to Mr. Kelly. Next time Mr. Kelly, if he wants to be elected, will doubtless remember that votes from any quarter will count.

PRISON LABOR

Illinois has just adopted an amendment to her constitution which will prohibit in future the contract system of prison labor. The vote upon the amendment was quite close, the cities generally showing majorities for it, and the rural districts majorities against it. It was carried, in fact, by the vote of Chicago, that city having given it nearly [illegible] majority. It was a vote of the farmers, who work for themselves, against a vote of the wage laborers of the cities, supported by [illegible] with labor, look chiefly to direction and control of the [illegible] vote.

The farmers of Illinois see no reason why convicts in the penitentiary should be supported in idleness, and they know that the amount of convict labor, in proportion to the whole labor of the state, is so small as to make the competition of prison labor with free labor practically a trifling matter. Whatever the prisoners may work at, there is some slight competition of course, but it is enormously exaggerated by political demagogues, as a means of moving what they call "the labor vote." This it is that has carried the constitutional amendment in Illinois.

Whether a state should or should not employ the contract system may depend on conditions and circumstances. If it is not prepared to employ its convicts with advantage on some other plan or system, then it may properly hire out their labor to contractors, taking care to keep the convicts always under its own supervision.

Illinois has a bureau of labor statistics whose commissioner has recently made a report wherein the various systems of employing convict labor are discussed. He reaches the conclusion that the ultimate solution of the problem will be found in the employment of convicts at manual occupations under the direct supervision of the state, and that the product of their labor may interfere as little as possible with the product of general labor, he would banish power machinery from the buildings. A further effect, he argues, would be to make a mechanic instead of a mere machine out of a convict, to give him a useful trade at which he could earn an honest living after leaving the prison. This may be worth thinking of in a general discussion of the question of prison labor, but it will be seen at first glance that the idea of getting the most profitable results that may be attainable out of prison labor must be dismissed under this plan.

FALL SALMON PACKS.

San Francisco Grocer.

In addition to the brands of fall pack Columbia river salmon mentioned in these columns last week we have information which warrants us in naming a number of others. Among the list of canners are names which the business community would not expect to find in this connection. There seems to have been a pretty general belief on the part of canners that one house in this city held a large quantity of spring pack Columbia river salmon and would therefore be obliged to purchase this fall packed trash to protect their holdings. If this is the motive that prompted the fall pack the result must be disappointing, for there are no large holdings of salmon either in this or any other market, and the house which was supposed to have a large stock here, has scarcely none at all. The list of the parties interested in this assault on the reputation of Columbia river salmon—for it can be regarded in this light—so far as obtained is as follows:

Name	Brand
West Coast Pkg Co, Astoria	Magnum Pkg Co
Elmore, Sanborn & Co	Jumbo
[illegible] Sanborn & Co	Veteran
A. W. Berry, [illegible] (no cannery)	Silver Dollar
A. W. Berry	Scroll Brand
[illegible] & Co, Astoria	Hepburn & Co
Astoria Pkg Co	West Coast
Astoria Pkg Co	Glasier
I X L Pkg Co	Tongue Point

These have all packed the late caught fish described last week and buyers are cautioned against [illegible] canners who [illegible] a prominent in this [illegible] to be confined in the severest terms. Other canners on the Columbia packed after the close of the spring season but did not continue operations after August. It must be remembered that there are legitimate fall packs on this coast on streams where no spring run occurs, viz: at Puget Sound, Grays harbor, on the Tillamook, [illegible] Umpqua and Smith rivers and at Coos Bay. These packs are recognized as standard fish. Though lacking the oil of the spring packed fish it is firm, good color and a merchantable product. In endeavoring to break up the outrageous practice of packing vagabond fish on the Columbia, late in the year we have no intention of doing injury to this branch of the salmon business. Unless Eastern buyers exercise great care there is danger of confusion in this matter.

One firm, which seems to have less shame than others on the Columbia river is likely to get into trouble in using a label of a defunct company which bears the name of William T. Coleman & Co., agents. We learn that the first mentioned firm procured a quantity of these labels viz: the old Union Packing company and put them on this bastard fish and that Coleman & Co. have brought an injunction suit in the United States district court at Portland. This brand has a good reputation and Elmore Sanborn & Co. in disregard of the rights of others have sought to make use of them and the name of Wm. T. Coleman & Co. on this fall packed fish. This is a downright fraud which Coleman & Co. invoke the law to prevent. The salmon business appears to be suffering, this year from what may very appropriately be termed trade pirates and unless a determined position is taken against all irregular packing the industry will fall into disrepute as pronounced as that which so seriously affected the oyster canning business on the Atlantic coast. A few years ago canned lobsters were in great request in Great Britain. Through bad packing and their irregularities the demand for this food has declined to almost nothing. This should be a warning to those engaged in salmon canning.

When such product as we have described is offered in Eastern markets as the very cream of fall packs, it is time harsh measures should be used. In the weekly price list of the J. L. Armsby Co. of Chicago under date of November [illegible] the following statement occurs:

In salmon we have some bargains to offer. We have Elmore's Royal Seal, Jumbo and Veteran brands, George Meyers's Puget Sound and Warner's Lenox. These are the very cream of fall packs. We bought them cheap and will give you the [illegible] trade.

Are these the goods that Mr. Armsby referred to in his letter of September [illegible], wherein he stated "[illegible] to tell you [illegible] salmon for [illegible]." Judging from the samples of fall pack fish we have seen it would be [illegible].

It is greatly to be regretted that the attempt is made to introduce unwholesome fish [illegible] practices into this branch of business at this late day.

CLEVELAND FOR ANOTHER TERM

New York Herald.

If the democratic party cannot re-elect Mr. Cleveland it cannot elect any man to the presidency in 1888. President Cleveland has by his wise and conservative course won the respect and confidence of the country not merely for himself but for the democratic party. His administration of the nation's affairs has allayed the suspicions and fears of democratic success which the republicans sowed broadcast in 1884 and so successfully that thousands of republicans unwillingly voted for Mr. Blaine or Mr. St. John rather than risk a democrat, as the saying went in those days. Democrats who desire the continued success of their party must see that they can get it only with Mr. Cleveland at the head. The reason is plain. Mr. Cleveland's democracy, honest, straightforward, faithful to democratic principles—is the kind the people trust, and want. Not only the democratic rank and file, but masses of republicans are on his side. The bitterness with which the Blaine organs persecute him is the best proof of his strength with the people. If the democratic party should cast him aside, should revolt against his policy and administration of affairs that would be precisely what the republicans want. Mr. O'Donohue's foolish talk ought to be repudiated by Tammany and by all who desire a continued democratic policy for the country.

A SOUTHERN VIEW OF IT

Atlanta Constitution

The New York Sun, one of our best beloved contemporaries, quotes an editorial from the Constitution indorsing the Sun's remark that Mr. Samuel J. Randall would make a good president. The conspicuous placing of our article on the Sun's editorial page leads us to promptly disclaim any disposition to join the Sun in its attempt to put Mr. Randall in the field for the presidency in 1888. Mr. Randall is one of the ablest of our public men. Better than this he is one of the most honest. He can in our opinion have the vote of Georgia pretty much whenever he wants it both in the nominating convention and in the electoral college. And Georgia is the state that with her solid democratic delegation of ten congressmen sets the democratic pattern for many misled Southern states. But Mr. Randall understands the political situation as well as we do and as well as the editor of the Sun would understand it if he would think with his head instead of with his liver. The man for 1888 does not bear the name of Samuel J. Randall. His name is Grover Cleveland. Mr. Randall knows this and he will not stand in the way of the tried and chosen candidate under whom and under whom alone the shifty and dangerous Mr. Blaine can be beaten. Mr. Cleveland may make mistakes here and there but he is a great big man and in him is concentrated democratic hope and democratic assurance for 1888. Again indorsing all the Sun says of Mr. Randall we urge it to be steadfast in its devotion to him—and patient.

DRUG STORES IN POLITICS

Chicago Herald

Col. Moonlight, lately the democratic candidate for governor in Kansas declares that the drug stores defeated him. Under the so-called prohibitory law they have a monopoly of the beer and liquor traffic and as a result are selling vast quantities of intoxicants at exorbitant rates. The only difference that he discovers in the situation since the abolition of the saloons is that liquor now costs more money than it did, the amount sold and consumed being as large as ever. Beer which drug stores buy at 13 cents per bottle is readily retailed at [illegible]. Whisky bought by the gallon at $1.50 a gallon is sold at $1.00 per pint. All that is needed to get a supply of beer or whisky is to obtain a permit from the probate judge, and as that functionary derives a revenue of [illegible] on every permit issued he is not likely to be very particular about satisfying himself of the genuineness of the application. Every man who is sick or who may think that he will be sick is entitled under the law to have some medicine, and in consequence Kansas has become one of the healthiest states in the Union. The invalid presents himself to the probate judge, nominates his disease, pays his fee, receives his permit, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] his poison [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the drug store [illegible] whisky is good for everything [illegible] that the [illegible] increasing [illegible] monopoly of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] According to Col. Moonlight every druggist [illegible] satisfactorily [illegible] the prohibition law [illegible] money [illegible] to his [illegible] continuance will make him rich. [illegible] ardently in favor of any party which [illegible] retain the law. As the recent campaign was made in defense of the present system the druggists arrayed themselves on the side of that organization and by assessing [illegible] they were able to raise a corruption fund which made the efforts of the democrat Moonlight to illumine the state fall short of their object. Naturally enough he considers the drug store in politics a great evil and he sees no limit to the opportunities for fraud and corruption which it offers. It is evidently only a question of time when there will appear in Kansas and other prohibition states a party which will aim to destroy the drug store. If he things which Col. Moonlight says are to be accepted as correct it is already as demoralizing an institution as the saloon and under some circumstances may become more so.

THE CASCADE TUNNEL.

Kittitas Localizer: The track was laid on Sunday last within six miles of the tunnel.

There was some ten inches of snow on the switchback in the early part of this week.

There are two bridges yet to complete on the east side of the switchback, which will take about two weeks.

Daylight was seen through the Dingle tunnel on Saturday afternoon. His contract will be finished by the time the track reaches there.

O'Leary commenced on Sunday morning to grade the side track at the east portal, and also the foundation for the depot. It is expected to make that place the basis of supplies this winter.

Hunt has divided his grading force and sent the half, 300 teams, to work on the other side of the mountain. The remainder came down to Roslyn to work on the coal road. It is expected to have the coal road completed in ten days or by the last of next week. There are at work on this road some 300 teams and some 500 or 600 men.

The guards have been withdrawn from the switchback. They were followed down by 200 Chinamen, they were not willing to remain there unprotected, and on their arrival at Cle-elum they were set to work on the grade to the coal mines. In two weeks the track will be finished to the coal mines. The tracklayers keep up with the grading force.

"Facts are stubborn things" and "Figures don't lie." These are gray-haired proverbs, but will apply to many things relating to everyday routine business. In saying a few words to the public and our customers, we wish to impress upon them these facts, to-wit: That we are now carrying a complete line of Fall and Winter Suits for the man of mature years, down to the inscrutable small boy. In OVERCOATS we can accommodate all sizes at all prices, and here we have special attention, as this year's stock is surpassingly fine and appropriate to the season. In Hats and Caps we aim to supply all wants with the best manufacture. In PATTERNS we carry the Latest Designs for the special benefit of a class who prefer our Cutter to look after their needs. He is turning out something daily that will please the wearer. Our force is the usual courteous and competent set of clerks who know the class of goods the buyer most requires and are ready to fill orders. Figures we don't publish. You can be satisfied on that point at the outset in purchasing.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

WHEAT [illegible].—[illegible] item in Monday's OREGONIAN about the Oregon Pacific taking over the wheat from the [illegible] railroads to San Francisco [illegible], a well known wheat buyer said to a reporter of this paper yesterday: "It is short nonsense for the Oregon Pacific to attempt it. The wheat will follow the natural channel—down stream, not up stream. I am informed on good authority that they propose to make a rate of $2 50 from Willamette river points to San Francisco. The grain has to be handled four times—once at the original landing, once at Corvallis, once at Yaquina City and once in San Francisco. Figure as close as you can and the cost is 25 cents a ton for each handling, a total of $1. This leaves $1 50 a ton to be divided among a steamboat line, a railroad line and an ocean line. They will simply do business for less than cost. My idea is that they are making an effort to secure traffic at any cost. Some Eastern capitalists have been made to believe that the road was bound to get the bulk of the Willamette valley crop, and unless the company make a big showing this season they fear the men behind them will abandon the plan of pushing the road to an Eastern connection."

OUGHT TO SUE FOR LIBEL.—It is an old and accepted saying that "misfortunes never come singly," and Mr A D Tufts is beginning to be convinced that it is a true one. Not long since he was misrepresented by the press as having gone to Tillamook to lecture on temperance, and his cronies were never tired of laughing at him about it. But that was a trifle to the horrible misrepresentation of him in the last number of Frank Leslie's Monthly, in which under the name of Tufts, he is set forth as having resided for many years in a tub "in comfort according to his ideas and single blessedness." This is bad enough but the illustration accompanying the article is simply atrocious. Mr Tufts is represented as a man of venerable aspect supporting himself on a cane and with a gray beard reaching to his girdle. Mr. Tufts says his grandfather lived to be 100 years old, and was a young man compared to what he is represented to be in the picture. Close by, under a big tree, is a large cask lying on its side with a hole in the end, after the style of a dog kennel. It is not unlikely that Mr Tufts will enjoin J K Gill & Co from selling the magazine, and he should also sue the publishers for libel in the most aggravated form.

INTERFERING WITH NEIGHBORS' SPORTS.—Shooting privileges on Sauvie's island and vicinity, especially on Wapato lakes, where canvasbacks are to be had, are becoming valuable, and consequently are becoming a source of trouble. Only a few days since a case involving the right to the shooting on Salines lakes was settled. Now Joseph Pacquet, Woodson Scoggin, R E Bybee and others who own an undivided tract of land on Sauvie's island, on which is a valuable shooting privilege, have applied to Judge Stearns for a restraining order to prevent James McIntire and George Thomas from interfering with their shooting. They allege that McIntire and Thomas fire guns and at night build fires for the purpose of scaring the ducks from their lake. It would seem at first glance as if any one had a right to discharge guns or build fires on his own premises, but if it can be shown that the only object in doing so is to injure or annoy the owners of adjacent property, it may prove that they have no right to do so.

SLOPPY STREETS.—Morrison street is in a pretty mess. Looking from the foot it resembles a broad, placid stream of dirty looking pea soup, through which horses go with a splash splash! The whole force of the street-cleaning department cannot keep the crossings in a fit condition for foot passengers. Now that the streets are all in a mess the superintendent of the street cleaning department should put on a large force of men and give them a thorough cleaning in as short a time as possible. As they are now cleaned by the small force employed the mud from the dirty streets is hauled [illegible] and all are kept in a mess. A sufficient force should be put on to give a [illegible] thorough cleaning and [illegible] they could easily be kept in good condition. The lack of funds should make no difference, as the men would be willing to do the work and take chances of getting their pay.

PAID AFTER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY.—Capt. R. H. Lamson, clerk of the United States courts, yesterday received a letter from T H Looker, pay director of the United States navy, enclosing $[illegible]. This is Capt. Lamson's share of prize money from a brig loaded with cotton captured off Charleston by the United States war vessel Wabash in 18[illegible], of which he was midshipman on board [illegible]. This was the first exploit of the kind in which Capt Lamson was engaged. He captured a number of vessels afterward and received his prize money for them long ago, but had never applied for it in this case and had in fact forgotten the matter. Paymaster Looker closes his letter to Capt. Lamson by saying "You are not forgotten by your old friends." The receipt of the prize money after a quarter of a century sort of brought back thoughts of old times and associates.

THE COMPETITIVE DRILL.—Every night the twenty four picked men of Company G who are to match a like number from the Seattle Rifles December 11, at the Mechanics' pavilion, engage for three hours at drill under Capt. Farrar. In order that there shall be absolute impartiality in the selection of judges, the captains of the contending companies have addressed a joint letter to Col De Russy, commanding Vancouver barracks, requesting him to select three officers of his command to act as judges, and not to disclose their names until the night of the drill. No doubt Col DeRussy will comply with the request. The Northern Pacific railroad company will sell excursion tickets to the drill at one regular fare for the round trip from all points between Victoria and Portland. It is expected that 100 people besides the militia will come over from Seattle.

POLICE COURT NOTES.—Yesterday morning John Meyers proceeded to amuse himself in front of the city jail by thumping a Chinaman, and the consequence was that he was run in for assault and battery, on which charge he will be tried to day. Hen Woods will be up for drunkenness and begging, and S Bruce for disorderly conduct. Bruce was out horseback riding Monday night and tying the horse up in front of a saloon next door to the city jail, entered the saloon and proceeded to fill up. While so engaged he made himself so disagreeable that policeman Cunningham was called in, and the next thing that Bruce knew he found himself securely locked up in the big cell. The horse was taken to a livery stable. Matt Casey will also be tried to day before Judge Dement for assault and battery. Up to last [illegible] counts this with several drunks will complete the list.

THE SALVATION ARMY'S CELEBRATION.—Handbills bearing the following delightful programme have been distributed all over town: "The Salvation Army in the Tabernacle, Tenth and Taylor streets, Thanksgiving Day, Nov 25, 188[illegible].—A Consecration Meeting at [illegible] 30—Tremendous Banquet from 5 to [illegible] P M. Tickets, 25 cents each—Proceeds for building Barracks—A Gigantic March of the Banners at 7 P M—A Saved Drunkard's Demonstration and Hosanna Meeting at [illegible] will close up with a Hallelujah Medley—Crowds are coming. Be early to get a seat." The gigantic march and the saved drunkard's demonstration will no doubt be pleasing features.

SUING FOR INSURANCE.—W S [illegible], who was assigned the insurance on the stock of [illegible] destroyed by fire a short time since, has commenced suit against seven insurance companies interested in the U S court to recover the amount due from each. It is alleged that the losses were adjusted and that the companies had agreed to pay and then went back on their promises. The insurance companies included in the suit are as follows: Scottish Union and National, $[illegible]; Commercial Union [illegible]; [illegible] Phoenix $[illegible]; [illegible] Insurance Company $11,000; Fireman's Fund $[illegible].

WITHOUT FRIENDS.—Dan Moran will be called upon to plead to day before Judge Stearns on a charge of murder. Moran is confined in one of the [illegible] in the county jail and as yet has had but [illegible] visitors. Although he did have a good many [illegible] companions [illegible] most of fortune [illegible] Kelly nor his friends have as yet put in an appearance to help assist Moran out of his scrape. At the time of the trouble the Astorian yesterday [illegible]: "Dan Moran was not quite so successful this time as in his former adventure on the occasion of the murder of young Baker by one of his associates in this city."

THANKSGIVING DELICACIES.—Turkeys are turkeys now, the wholesale price having advanced within the past day or two to fifteen cents per pound live weight. There are plenty for all, however, and all who desire can have roast turkey for their Thanksgiving. The markets present a fine display of game and fish. There are plenty of fine wild ducks, plenty of good fat geese, some venison, plenty of oysters, and in fact everything that an epicure can desire.

DEATH FROM CONSUMPTION.—At 3 o'clock yesterday morning Dell Craft, a young man aged 18, died at the residence of his mother, corner Eleventh and J streets, of consumption. He had been bedfast about three months. Young Craft will be remembered as the letter messenger for Wells, Fargo & Co., and an excellent faithful boy he was. The death of Dell takes from his mother her principal support. The funeral takes place this afternoon.

FOR GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL.—The collectors for the Thanksgiving offerings for the Good Samaritan hospital to be taken up this morning will all be provided with pass books in which those who give are requested to put down their names and the articles given. To prevent the public from being imposed upon the collectors will all wear badges. No one not wearing these is authorized to collect for the hospital.

NUMEROUS DISAPPOINTMENTS.—Says the Astorian: "Let's see. Minnie Hauk was to sing here, and didn't; and Georgie Woodthorpe was to play here and didn't; and the Japanese Troupe was to juggle here, and didn't; and the Lickert [illegible] troupe was to give 'Fun in Camp' here and didn't; and the Canby minstrels were to appear here last evening, and didn't. What's the matter at show?"

STATE CIRCUIT COURT.—The argument in the Kelly Highfield case will be commenced in state circuit court, department No 1, this morning. [illegible] B Mitchell, J F Caples and C M Idleman will address the jury. On the conclusion of the Kelly Highfield case the Thwaites-Lotan damage suit will be taken up. This will probably be about Friday.

CONCERT AND NAPKIN SOCIABLE.—Thanksgiving evening (Thursday) at Hall street church there will be a very enjoyable literary and musical entertainment, and napkin sociable. Everyone, especially young people away from home, are invited to the Thanksgiving social. Admittance twenty five cents.

THE RANGE DRAWING at Deal & O'Reilly's, corner Second and Yamhill streets, will take place at 10 o'clock Thanksgiving morning. All who can should be present to see that the drawing is carried out honestly.

RUSH ON TIMBER PURLOINERS.—Parties who have been guilty of taking timber from government land [illegible] do not appear to stand much show in the U S courts. They get the [illegible] right along. The jury in the U S circuit court yesterday rendered a verdict against Messrs. Rowley & Whitsett of Douglas county in the sum of $[illegible]. Rowley did not appear, and his bail was forfeited and a bench warrant ordered to be issued for his arrest.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.—The public are cordially invited to attend and participate in the Thanksgiving exercises at the Taylor street Methodist church. A sermon will be preached by the pastor Rev Dr M [illegible], and the splendid choir, led by Mrs [illegible], will furnish appropriate music.

GOSPEL MEETINGS.—A series of gospel meetings will be conducted by Rev C J Mills in the Evangelical hall, corner Mill and Second streets, commencing on next Sunday night Nov 28. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Revs Poling, Pratt, Schlink and others will be present to help in these meetings.

SLIGHT FIRE.—About 10 20 o'clock last night fire was discovered in a wood pile back of Smith's foundry at First and Hall streets and an alarm was sounded from box 4. It was quickly responded to by the department and the fire put out before any material damage resulted.

DECISIONS TO BE ANNOUNCED.—Judge Stearns will announce decisions this morning in the following cases: Willamette Iron Works vs. P C Davidson et al; James Delay vs J J Tackabery et al; Mary Jane Espey vs Peter Kalich et al.

Franz Althaber, the bridegroom who mysteriously disappeared two weeks ago in Astoria, is still missing, and though $250 reward has been offered not the slightest clue to his fate or his whereabouts has been found. It is one of the strangest and most mysterious disappearances in the annals of Oregon.

Deputy U S Marshal Charles Frush arrived here from the Klamath reservation, having in charge Jack Snider, W T Skeim, Wm [illegible] and "Cayuse" Joe, charged with selling liquor to Indians. He also brought along two Indians and two squaws as witnesses. Snider and Skeim were tried yesterday and fined $15 each.

During his engagement here with the Pyke company Mr Bishop was married to one of the chorus singers of the company. Deceased was a son of C B. Bishop, the celebrated comedian.

Complaint is made of rude conduct on the part of some of the hackmen, expressmen and runners who await the west side train at Morrison street in the evening. It is said that there was no policeman there last evening, or if there was he did not make himself conspicuous. Ladies passing along the street were rudely accosted by one after another of those in waiting and some of them taken by the shoulder. Chief Parrish will see if there is any foundation for these complaints and if so, see that better order is kept there in future.

FAIRPLAY.

The Prohibition Question

D—[illegible] the prohibition question.

GOODSELL ELECTED 3 TO 1.

To say that yesterday's election passed off quietly is expressing it mildly. About the only interest shown was by democrats who desired to get even on Kelly for having seen fit publicly to despise their support. Many prominent democrats took particular pains to go to the polls and vote for Goodsell.

There were no hacks, no express wagons, no carriages, no crowds, no excitement and very few ticket peddlers. The corporation should being centrally located, more than half the vote of South Portland was cast there. Of the 4[illegible] ballots for Goodsell nearly one half were cast by democrats. The total vote of the city was 1[illegible]00. [illegible] June the vote was [illegible]. Goodsell's election was a foregone conclusion. Following is the vote of Portland and suburbs:

NOTES

Kelly's senseless move of "renouncing" the democratic nomination is said to be due to the advice of socialistic cranks who wished to exhibit the strength of their party.

There was no trouble about keeping people 100 feet away from the polling places—the great trouble was to get any one within that distance. Tickets were suspended temptingly on the door posts at some polling places and voters were offered a chromo for using them.

THE EAST SIDE.

JUSTICE'S AND RECORDER'S COURT

Business in the justice's and recorder's courts was brisk yesterday. In the former F. P Yost, accused of assaulting and beating one C. B. Glover near Sellwood on Sunday last, and pleaded not guilty, was tried before Justice Bullock and a jury, and resulted in a verdict of assault only, and a fine of $10 was imposed, which was paid and the defendant was released from custody. Information having been filed against the same defendant, accusing him of the crime of threatening to kill C B Glover, defendant waived examination and gave bail in the sum of $200 for his appearance before the grand jury. Information was also filed in the same court, accusing C B Glover with an assault with a dangerous weapon upon F Yost on Sunday last. Glover was arrested and on hearing the information read he also waived examination and furnished bonds in the sum of $200 for his appearance before the grand jury.

Information was filed in the recorder's court accusing William Lead, a chronic drunk, of the crime of indecent exposure, which occurred in this city on Monday evening. An examination was had yesterday morning, which resulted in the defendant being held in $200 bonds to appear before the grand jury, and not having a cent in his pocket or a friend to furnish the required bail, he was committed to the county jail.

A man named William Elmer, who was arrested at 3 o'clock yesterday morning for being found drunk and disorderly on the streets, was taken before the recorder and pleading not guilty was tried and the charge sustained by the evidence of A W Atterberry, the night policeman, who arrested him. A fine of $5 was imposed, which was paid and he was released from custody.

PUBLIC SCHOOL REPORT

The following is the report of the Holladay addition school for the month ending November 1[illegible] 1886. Whole number pupils registered, 101; whole number days attendance, 3219½; number belonging, 1[illegible]3; cases corporal punishment, 2; per cent daily attendance 94 7, being higher than last month's per cent; still it is desirable to raise the standard of both punctuality and attendance if possible, as good results cannot be obtained without a high standard. The punctuality of the school was much higher the present month than the preceding one, there being three cases of tardiness in sixth grade, three in fifth, four in fourth, one in third, none in second and first grades. Among the visits received by the school during the month was one from State Superintendent E B McElroy. In connection with this in justice to myself I wish to state that the information imputed to me in the Star of November 20 was not obtained from me. Respectfully submitted to the public.

GAS LAMPS LIGHTED

The contract entered into between the city council and the East Portland gas company for lighting a certain number of gas lamps went into effect last evening, and several of the streets were lighted. A B Johnson, whose bid was the lowest for lighting the oil lamps, has failed to perfect his contract up to the present time, consequently they will not be lighted for the present.

A QUIET WEDDING

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Justice Bullock, corner of Third and D streets, in this city, last evening, the contracting parties being Dr William McLean and Miss Emma Mertz, both of Portland. At the close of the ceremony Dr and Mrs McLean recrossed the river to Portland, where they will take up their residence.

COWLITZ RIVER NOTES.

TOLEDO, W T, Nov 2[illegible].

The steamer Toledo made her first fall trip to Toledo Sunday. The memory of the "oldest inhabitant" runneth not to the time when the river has reached such a low stage as it has the past summer and remaining low so late in the fall. But some good has resulted. The $2000 allowed by congress for improvement of the river channel was an interminably long time getting out here, and the late season has given opportunity for work that could not have been done under usual conditions. Now there is two feet of water where last season it was almost dry land, and with a boat constructed for the work it is not unlikely that navigation will be uninterrupted next summer.

Kellogg's addition to Toledo has been surveyed and plat filed, and quite a number of lots have been sold. Several residences are under way and some good ones just completed. But lack of lumber is a great drawback to building, which reminds the writer that here is a fine opportunity for a sawmill man to find a good location.

The Cowlitz river is jammed from mouth almost to head with sawlogs, which are in some places quite an impediment to steamboat navigation, and something of an injury to the river channel, clogging it up and forming new bars. [illegible] coming in the river will clear them out. On the lower river the shingle mills are very busy and keep a large number of [illegible] in employment getting out bolts, which are [illegible] in the river as the logs. At [illegible] a new mill has just been put up, which makes two [illegible] mills at that place, and both are crowded [illegible] their work. The larger portion of [illegible] for these mills comes from the Toutle river, a branch of the Cowlitz. Castle Rock now wears quite a busy air, and since the brush is being cleared [illegible] is considerably [illegible] a town. [illegible] below is another blossoming town on the Cowlitz, and has a new sawmill and quite a number of new houses. Both places are in [illegible] to be the county seat of Cowlitz county [illegible] inducements, and it is likely that Kalama will hold the fort till she rots down.

In the Cowlitz valley plowing and seeding has been progressing despite the dry weather, and a large acreage of fall grain will be put in. Hon[illegible] brothers have already sown 400 acres and others are putting in large fields. Near Toledo several landowners are preparing to set out hops this spring, and no doubt will make money by it. There is no better soil or place on the coast for hop growing than the Cowlitz valley, and those who go at it intelligently must surely find a profitable field of enterprise.

DON'T FORGET THE LITTLE ONES AT "THE HOME."

It was the intention of the ladies of the Relief society to canvass the city as usual before Thanksgiving, but sickness has prevented some, while various reasons have made it impossible for others to carry out their plans. We are very sure, however, that the little ones at The Home will not be forgotten by our citizens, who have always vied with each other in the many proofs of their interest in this institution.

Don't forget the place: Second street, the old Portland Savings bank room, one door from Stark and next door to Ackerman's. Some one will be in attendance all day and also on Thursday until noon to receive and forward your gifts. Advisory Committee Ladies' Relief Society.

OPEN LETTER TO MRS. DR. DUFLOT

ESMOND HOTEL, City.

Dear Madam: Contrary to your expectations as expressed in a city paper, this letter does not begin by denouncing and vilifying you. I address these lines to you as a gentleman ought to a lady—in a candid, liberate and fair minded manner.

According to your announcement you intend to remain with us for some time, and as you naturally seek the patronage of this community during your stay it is but fair for this community to know something of your antecedents, some results of your practice, etc. The nature of your calling requires you to bear a stainless and blameless reputation, and I, as one of the old residents of this city, would be grateful for an answer to the following questions:

First—Where do you reside permanently?

Second—Where did you graduate?

Third—Do you profess to cure all curable diseases (for your twenty five mentioned in the News include almost all possible maladies) with your three Egyptian remedies?

Fourth—Did you cure any resident blind people from blindness, or a paralytic person from paralysis, where a regular physician failed to do so? If so, state names and residence.

Now Mrs Dr Duflot, you don't profess to work miracles, and your professional career will receive no check by having your former whereabouts and your present cures revealed to the public. I am known to almost everybody in Portland and to a great many people of this state. My interrogations are pertinent but I trust not impertinent. Neither can you say that you don't want notoriety, for you do. You are a good business woman and must be aware that it will increase your practice if you can answer the above questions satisfactorily. If you cannot—I expect no answer.

F F MILLIS

Since writing this letter the woman above mentioned has gone to Tacoma, but will return in a few days. Copy will be forwarded to her. M

THE FRENCH DOCTORS

Two Humanitarians Among Us, and their Plans of Work.

Since the Drs. Duflot announced that the golden chariot would be withdrawn from the streets, and that all treatment of patients would hereafter be done at their office in the Esmond hotel, they have been fairly besieged by those seeking relief. It has been charged that they demand from every person five dollars, whether treatment is had or not. This is not true, but to gain admission a patient is required to pay five dollars, and if his case is accepted the money is applied upon his fees. If not the money is refunded and the person dismissed with the information that he is incurable. So far no one treated has been found to say aught against the doctors or their methods. They do not claim to work miracles, but are regular graduates of first class colleges and have their diplomas to show for it. They receive but fourteen cases each day, and the fact that their time is all taken up attests the truth of their ability to make permanent cures of all cases they touch. They are cheerfully recommended to the afflicted as humanitarians of the most charitable dispositions, but as they intend remaining here for quite a while yet, it is likely their success will be the means of raising venomous spite-throwers to decry them and denounce their methods, which are not in conformity with the established rule laid down by the medical profession of Portland, but in many instances more satisfactory to the patients who have vainly sought relief for the past few years prior to the advent of the Drs. Duflot.

THREE GREAT REMEDIES

Uses to Which They May be Put in Curing Diseases.

The demand for the three great Egyptian remedies of the French lady doctor is so great that these remedies have been placed on sale at the Esmond office at the regular price of $1 per pack[illegible]. Persons from a distance, who can not come to the city, may send for them C O D by addressing Thomas Guinean, proprietor of the hotel. As it may not be generally known what diseases the remedies will cure, a News reporter called upon the doctors and held an interview resulting in his securing information that the remedies would cure bilious complaints, heartburn, dyspepsia, indigestion, colics, diarrhœa, diseases of the liver and spleen, malarial fever, piles, diseases of the chest, colds, catarrh, whooping cough, humid asthma, fits, palpitation of the heart, nervous complaints, dropsy, scrofulous diseases, female complaints, the whites or fluor albus, asthma and pulmonary catarrh of the bladder, pains, gout and rheumatism. The remedies are a "perfume," a powder and a salve. The former is for the cure of pains, cuts, bruises, etc, and may be taken internally; the powder cures dyspepsia, stomach and bowel disorders, biliousness, etc. The salve is used in conjunction with the other remedies and is a reliable auxiliary. The THREE GREAT EGYPTIAN CURES are compounded exclusively of expensive aromatic and balsamic plants, herbs, roots, barks and flowers. They are unequalled for restoring strength to persons suffering from debility, youth and virility to the old, and for strengthening children, whom they help to develop in a most extraordinary manner during their growth and when teething.

FOR DYSPEPSIA and Liver Complaint you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. It never fails to cure. WOODARD CLARKE & CO., Agents.

The Men who Won't

Kansas City Journal

There is one matter in all this discussion that seems to escape the attention of the land reformers in New York. They overlook the fact that probably not one man in 100 of the persons who voted for George want to have anything to do with land unless they can have somebody work it and divide the proceeds with them. We will venture the proposition that Henry George could not find 1800 men among the 68,000 who voted for him who would be willing to go West and work on a farm five years for current wages. We do not believe that Henry George could find 6800 men among all his followers who would be willing to undergo the hardships and privations of farm life for five years if by so doing they could secure a farm of [illegible] acres.

Wheat on passage from India is estimated at 6,432,000 bushels, of which 4,920,000 bushels are for the U. K. and 1,512,000 bushels for the continent.

The sowing of fall wheat in France has been finished, and in a manner generally satisfactory to the farmers.

English advices report that India's remaining exportable wheat surplus is comparatively small, and that the movement of Indian wheat during the next three months will be largely dependent upon crop prospects.

The Bulletin des Halles says: It is evident that France's requirements of foreign wheat will be larger than was thought a month or two ago, the home grown wheat giving a very short yield of flour, which, added to the deficit in production compared with last year, means that a large quantity of foreign wheat will have to be imported.

Comparative exports of wheat and flour from the Atlantic ports this year and last, was at equivalent in bushels:

	1886	1885
July 16 to 31	6,140,060	3,855,700
To August 28	13,567,600	5,306,750
To September 25	11,368,292	4,211,842
To October 30	9,728,225	5,346,556
To November 13	4,245,000	2,140,039
July 16 to November 13	45,339,107	20,863,887

The French minister of agriculture has officially stated that his estimate of the French wheat crop of [illegible] measured bushels was only a rough one and would certainly be modified. The New York Post states that the French government estimates the wheat crop of France this year at 295,000,000 bu. The average consumption of France is 330,000,000 bu., or a deficiency of 35,000,000 bu. Private estimates made the crop 267,000,000 bu. This shows a deficiency of 63,000,000 bu. Recent advices show that the threshing proves that there is a great deficiency in quality of the wheat which would at least reduce the government estimate 20,500,000 bu. This would put the requirements of France at 55,000,000 bu, the current cereal year.

A review of the San Francisco markets for last week contains the following: The market for salmon has been very quiet at unchanged quotations. Canned fruits continue in good demand. Some changes are reported in chemicals, chiefly in caustic soda and soda ash, which are scarce and higher for spot lots. Extra No. 1 rice is out of market, last sales, which cleaned up stocks in first hands, being made at $8 per two mats. No. 1 is quoted $5 25@5 30 per two mats, and mixed $4 40@4 50. Receipts of Hawaiian rice during the week have been nearly 6000 bags, most of which was sold at the current rate, $4 12½ per 100 pounds, usual time. The only change in spices is an advance in white pepper, which is now quoted at 30@31c. Coal is tending upward, as the amount, particularly for shipment to Australia is decreasing, as the depressed state of this freight market deters ships from heading this way. The Eastern iron market is reported firm, but there is little change locally.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 6368 c's wheat, 1624 bbls flour, 845 ctls oats, 202 ctls bran, 1130 ctls millstuff, 22 sks potatoes, 500 lbs hides, 9 pkgs butter, 28 cs eggs, 654 bxs fruit, 40 pkgs dried do. Also from the eastern section 13,910 ctls wheat, 520 bbls flour, 5260 lbs hides, 1491 sks flaxseed, 40 cattle, 58 hogs.

WHEAT—Public cables reported dearer markets at the opening, cargoes on passage closing quiet. Chicago and New York continue weak. Locally there is very little business passing and prices show little change. Walla Walla is quoted $1 15@1 17, the extreme being possible for round lots. Sales are light. Valley is quoted $1 24@1 25, with a cent more probably to be had. It is claimed that interior bids do not exceed $1 25.

OATS—Of four cars in yesterday three were marked for San Francisco. Stocks here are low and offerings are light, 43c being the nominal quotation for best feed.

POULTRY—Arrivals liberal and the request is good. The market rules easy at $3@4 for chickens, about 11c for turkeys, $4@6 for ducks, $6@7 for geese.

EGGS—Receipts show no increase and sell up close, the market ruling firm at 35c.

BUTTER—Free receipt of California brine, the grade being quoted at 21c. Good to choice local selling well.

MUTTON—Market rather firmer, 2¾@3c being quoted for live.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Governments were dull and steady. Stocks were very active and irregular with a tendency to lower figures, owing to sales of long holdings. Reading was the great feature of the day. Under a good market it succeeded in reaching higher figures than ever before attained. Prices were irregular but generally heavy in early dealings, and noon prices were fractions below the opening. The strong stocks of the morning were Jersey Central, New England and Texas Pacific, while special lists generally were weak. There were material recoveries in the afternoon, but toward the close the market again became weak, closing about steady, and fractions below the opening.

O. AND C. RAILROAD NOTES.

The work of building the railroad is progressing rapidly in order to accomplish as much as possible before the heavy storms commence, says the Yreka Journal. The track-layers are now four miles above Sisson's and the graders are many miles in advance. There is a large army "at the front," there being about 2,000 Chinese and 300 or 400 white men, and supply trains and construction trains are constantly going and coming.

Last Saturday a grader named John Condon had one of his legs broken by a blast. He was standing over 300 feet away from the blast, but a flying rock struck him below the knee. He was placed on an engine and taken to Dunsmuir in time to be placed on board the regular passenger train for the railroad hospital at Sacramento.

Trains will run up to the siding, about two miles south of Sisson's, to-morrow and will make no further change, except to Keyser's, or when the road is finished to Butteville.

The most efficacious stimulants to excite the appetite are ANGOSTURA BITTERS. Be sure you get the genuine article.

NOTES FROM BERLIN.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—In spite of the close watch kept on the barracks at Berlin, Spandau and Potsdam, thousands of copies of socialistic manifestoes have been found among the troops. The matter seized consists mostly of a newly issued appeal to soldiers to join the workingmen in hastening a social revolution. The source of the pamphlets has been traced to men frequenting soldiers' beer houses. A number of men have been arrested.

Herr Schwarzeck has returned from St. Petersburg, having suspended negotiations for a proposed Russian loan of 120,000,000 marks. It is reported that since his interview with Prince Bismarck, Herr Bleichroder has demanded heavier terms for the proposed loan, which Russia has declined to concede.

ITALY.

A CONFERENCE WITH THE POPE.

ROME, Nov. 23.—Archbishop Smith, of St. Andrew's, is visiting Rome on business relating to the affairs of the Scotch dioceses. He had a long conference to-day with the pope, respecting the best means to bring about a renewal of diplomatic relations between England and the Vatican. It is reported that a special apostolic delegate will be sent to England with this object in view.

BELGIUM.

COMPULSORY MILITARY SERVICE.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 23.—The senate and chamber of representatives to-day agreed to consider a bill making it compulsory for a citizen to enter the military service at the age of 20 years.

SOUTH AMERICA.

CHOLERA IN BUENOS AYRES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Marine hospital bureau is officially advised of the presence of cholera in Buenos Ayres.

SPORTING NOTES.

LAWYERS OFFER A BIG STAKE.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 23.—The lawyers of this city have offered a lawyer stake of $10,000 to be run for at the spring meeting of the Nashville Blood horse association. The race is for three-year-olds, and the distance one and one-sixteenth miles. The first time the stake is run for will be on the new race course.

SOUTHERN OREGON MINES.

Jacksonville Times.

Miners are anxiously awaiting rain, the season proving quite unfavorable so far.

Many quartz ledges are being prospected at present, and a rich strike may be expected at any time.

T. H. Berryman is still at work in his drifting diggings on Applegate and taking out a considerable amount of dust.

The miners of Grave, Wolf and Coyote creeks are ready for business and will make a good report if the season is favorable.

Blalock Bros. have their claim of Pleasant creek rigged up with hydraulic pipe and will make a good showing this season.

Smith & Lynch have their placer diggings on Wagner creek ready for business and we expect to hear of first-class results there.

Alex Watts's claim on Josephine creek is being fitted up with hydraulic pipe and will be worked on scientific principles hereafter.

J. Wimer & Sons have built a huge reservoir at the head of Butcher gulch, where they already have one giant at work and another in position.

Work is still progressing at the tunnels of the Jacksonville Milling and Mining company and C. C. Beekman, in the Jackson creek district, with excellent prospects.

Everything is in readiness at the Sterling mine for an extensive run, and a large amount of gold dust will no doubt be taken out there, as operations will take place in good ground.

J. G. Birdsey and S. Mathis are busily engaged in getting their claims on Birdsey creek in running order. They have hydraulic pipe and a giant and propose working on an extensive scale.

Brown & Co.'s mill, located near the Swinden ledge, has not got fairly under way as yet, some of the machinery not having been properly adjusted. In a few days it will be in good order, having commenced work yesterday.

Operations have been suspended on the Hope ledge, in the Wagner creek district, the ore not being of high enough grade to pay for working it, with the small mill in use. There is no doubt but what the mine would prove remunerative if a mill of sufficient capacity was employed.

A clean-up was made at Klippel, Baumle & Co.'s mill, on Shively gulch. We have not learned the exact result, but those interested seem to be satisfied with it. No doubt the mill can be supplied with quartz from the vicinity, in which event we think there can be no doubt of the success of the enterprise, as the ore seems to contain more or less gold, and the mill seems to deal with it in a satisfactory manner.

Professional Etiquette

Prevents some doctors from advertising their skill, but we are bound by no such conventional rules, and think that if we make a discovery that is of benefit to our fellows, we ought to spread the fact to the whole land. Therefore we cause to be published throughout the land the fact that Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the best known remedy for consumption (scrofula of the lungs) and kindred diseases. Send 10 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's complete treatise on consumption, with unsurpassed means of self-treatment. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Thirsty Lot.

Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Dr. Aveling, the English socialist, now a guest in this city, affirms as a result of personal observation that the men in the Eastern states, much more than those in the Western states, are given to the practice of going out for drinks at intervals during any evening entertainment. Then the men of the East must be an amazingly thirsty lot.

S. S. S. CURES Cancer, Scrofula, Eczema, Blood Poison, Malaria, Ulcers, And all Diseases Caused from Impure Blood

Cancer of the Tongue.

My wife, some three or four years ago, was troubled with an ulcer on the side of her tongue near the throat. The pain was incessant, causing loss of sleep and producing great nervous prostration. Accompanying this trouble was rheumatism. It had passed from the shoulders and centered in the wrist of one hand, she almost losing the use of it. Between the suffering of the two, life had grown burdensome. By the use of a half dozen small sized bottles of Swift's Specific, she was entirely relieved and restored to health. This was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. H. L. MIDDLEBROOKS.

IN PORTLAND!

THE CELEBRATED SPECIALIST,

Dr. Mintie,

Of San Francisco.

Is in Portland, and will remain for a short time. Dr. Mintie is well known over the Pacific Coast as the FOREMOST SPECIALIST of the age. He is permanently located in San Francisco, where for years the success of his practice has been a wonder to all, making cures in many cases pronounced incurable by others. His specialty includes the following

Nervous, Private and Chronic Diseases,

Such as Lost Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Exhausted Vitality, Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Prostatorrhœa, Impotency, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Lungs, Heart and Stomach; Premature Decline in Man, and Female Weakness in Women, and all Functional Derangements that result from youthful follies or excess in later years.

Microscopic Examination and Chemical Analysis.

Of the urine made in all cases where treatment is taken, so that whatever the complications may be, the microscope or chemical reagents in analyzing the urine surely discovers them.

CURES GUARANTEED.

The Doctor has for many years had published a standing offer that he would forfeit

Five Hundred Dollars

For a case of these troubles he undertakes and fails to cure.

DR. MINTIE is the sole proprietor of the

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY,

SIR ASTLEY COOPER'S VITAL RESTORATIVE

Sir Astley Cooper's VITAL Restorative!

A supply of which he has with him, and which he will be glad to furnish at regular rates. Price $1 50 per bottle. Four times the quantity, $5.

FEMALE WEAKNESS.

DR. MINTIE'S peculiar treatment of Prolapsus Uteri (falling of the womb), Leucorrhœa (whites), and all kindred female troubles, symptoms of which are backache, burning pain on top of the head, feeling of debility, general weakness, lassitude, low spirits, feeling of languor and nervousness, is the most sensible, radical, successful and legitimate known to medical science. No humiliating personal examination necessary, and the disgusting speculum practice, so prevalent in the treatment of these diseases, is entirely done away with, as not only being of no benefit, but positively injurious. This fact has been demonstrated in thousands of cases in San Francisco and surrounding country, which have been permanently cured by DR. MINTIE, after the old speculum plan had failed.

Consultation Free.

It will cost you nothing to consult the Doctor, and if your case is curable he will frankly tell you, and if not curable, he will not undertake it.

Thorough examination and advice, including microscopic examination and chemical analysis of urine, $5.

Call on or address, DR. MINTIE, office 224½ First st., southeast corner First and Salmon streets, rooms 7 and 8, up stairs. Office hours, 9 to 3 daily; evenings, 7 to 8. Only one call necessary; balance of treatment until cured conducted from his office in San Francisco, Cal.
